

The Director

Brussels, 12.3.10
EACI/PL D 31112 (2010)

Mr Mariano del Castillo
CECE – Confederación Española
de Centros de Enseñanza
Marqués de Mondejar 29-31
28028 Madrid
España

Thank you for your contribution to the 2010 Award Competition

Dear Mr del Castillo,

On behalf of the European Commission and our Agency, thank you very much for having taken part in this year's Sustainable Energy Europe Award.

Your project was nominated for the category Promotional, Communication and Educational actions, where it competed against 87 other projects.

A jury composed of 5 experts with different professional backgrounds, and chaired by European Parliamentarian Fiona Hall, met in mid-February to select the final winners out of 26 nominated projects.

Making a selection from so many high-quality projects was difficult and required a thorough and balanced assessment. We regret to have to inform you that the jury did not award your project YOURVID.EU although its members recognised it as an excellent example of sustainable energy practice.

The winners will be officially announced at the Award Ceremony on 23 March 2010 in Brussels. Until then we would like to ask you to treat this information strictly confidential.

We would be happy to welcome you at the Award Ceremony at which the new European Energy Commissioner Günther H. Oettinger will be present. An official invitation has been sent to you already.

We like to thank you once again for your commitment to a more sustainable energy future and hope to see you in Brussels on 23 March.

Yours sincerely,

P. Lambert

Executive Agency for Competitiveness and Innovation (EACI)

EACI
OR 07/49
B-1049 Brussels

Telephone: (32-2) 29 69 411
Fax: (32-2) 29 81606
E-mail: stella.willborn@ec.europa.eu